Oberon Books Ltd, United Kingdom, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 210 x 130 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Monster: He s got zero empathy. You could be having a conversation and start choking to death and he d just think, Well, this conversation s over. He d probably just sit there and finish eating whatever you were choking on. An inexperienced teacher is given the job of saving a disturbed and violent fourteen-year-old boy from permanent exclusion. Alone in the classroom, an intense battle of wills takes place. But what can be done when a child cares for no one and is afraid of nothing? Monster won two awards at the inaugural Bruntwood Playwriting Competition and was first performed in 2007 at the Royal Exchange, Manchester, where Duncan MacMillan was Writer-in-Residence. Lungs: I could fly to New York and back every day for seven years and still not leave a carbon footprint as big as if I have a child. Ten thousand tonnes of CO2. That s the weight of the Eiffel Tower. I d be giving birth to the Eiffel Tower. In a time of global anxiety, terrorism, erratic weather and political unrest, a young couple want a child but are running out of time. If they over think it, they ll never do it. But if they rush, it could be a disaster. They want to have a child for the right reasons. Except, what exactly are the right reasons? And what will be the first to destruct - the planet or the relationship? 2071: Climate change is a matter of importance to everyone, but what to do about it is mired in controversy. What s needed is a conversation. What do we owe future generations? How can we protect our children and grandchildren? Every Brilliant Thing:...
