We have an individual nominated to this Government professedly by the Sovereign but ostensibly and virtually by the Colonial Minister. Now it is within the range of possibility that some gentleman residing in this colony, --my friend Mr. Vankoughnet, for instance, might find it necessary to go to England, his professional ability and talent would bring him into notice, and he might become a member of the Government, be made Colonial Secretary, and Mr. Vankoughnet would in fact, I send us a Governor-General! (Hear, hear.) I ask you, if that was to be the case, should we be satisfied with it ? Is it right that an individual exercising one-third of the power of this government should be appointed...
